

clares he needs for the bare necessities, FOOD, CLOTHING AND SHELTER, is either a wise or a just policy, do you?

You are not so blind as to believe that a people possessing the right to vote will permanently submit to such conditions, are you?

Cant' you see, Mr. Conservative, that back of the insurgency, in both great parties, back of the mounting votes for socialism, back of the struggle between labor and capital is the suffering of men, women and children and the grim determination of the lovers of mankind to make the United States of America a fairer, juster and better place for the common man?

Mr. Conservative, THE RADICAL IS THE TRUE CONSERVATIVE, and you are the real radical. For when you stubbornly stand in the path of progress you do not stop the tide, but merely dam it, for the moment, and, if you succeed in damming it long enough we shall all be drowned in the inevitable deluge.

WAKE UP, MR. CONSERVATIVE! LEND A HAND!

THE WORLD'S NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD

Jennie Derosiers, 17, Spooner, Wis., school teacher, was caught in blizzard while walking from home to school house. She was frozen to death.

St. Louis city council is considering bill to make it illegal for woman to wear hatpin projecting half an inch beyond hat. Penalty to be fine or imprisonment.

J. R. Ponder, Webster Grove, Mo., slept while home was burning up until roof fell in and hit him on head. Then he wakened, dressed and made his escape.

With four naturally formed legs and as many arms, one year-old Virginia McDonnell, Lebanon, Va., today was exhibited before a teratological clinic at Johns Hopkins' Hospital by her mother and family physician. She has not suffered a childish ill since her birth.

Mrs. Charlotte Pearce, 81 years old, Philadelphia, is going on lecture platform to urge woman suffrage in Pennsylvania. Says she wants to vote before she dies.

Sir Edward Lugard, British governor of Hong Kong, has proclaimed martial law in Shanghai, fearing a massacre of foreigners.

Andy Carnegie seems to have had a finger in the robbing of the Merritt brothers.

Lord George Sanger, the "English Barnum", who sold his circus to P. T. in 1874, has been murdered by insane farm hand.

Theodore Roosevelt, jr., has been made superintendent of carpet factory where he began work two years ago at $4 a week.

Dr. Fred H. Albee, N. Y., has found way to cure hunchbacks by grafting part of shinbones. Where is Fred going to get the shinbones?

August Belmont has got the statement habit. Has issued statement that his son, Raymond, was not stabbed in tenderloin resort during Horse Show week.